PEEK NAMED HEAD OF FOREIGN TRADE GROUP WITH CHESTER DAVIS TO BECOME CHIEF OF AAA

U. S. TO ADVANCE 4 CENTS A POUND ON COTTON PAPER

Administration Moves To Immediately Liquidate
2,400,000 Bales as Pool Is Formed; C. C. C. To Lend Necessary Funds.

ACTION ON OPTIONS LOOMS THIS WEEK

Designated Official Authorized To Sell Spots,
Buy Futures To Replace Staple Disposed Of.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(P)—The farm administration today announced formation of a cotton pool to liquidate the 2,400,000 bales of government held cotton covered by options to producers.

The administration said it would advance 4 cents a pound, or $20 a bale, on their option certificates, the project to be financed by borrowing from the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Options to cotton farmers who participated in the 1933 adjustment campaign will be sent to county agents this week, together with a statement that the option holders may obtain the 4 cents per pound initial advance on the options they hold calling for a full payment of 6 cents per pound.

Approximately 600,000 cotton farmers elected the "option-with-benefit" plan, the cotton and production campaign of the past summer.

The plan entails establishment of the cotton pool, which will be concerned with holding the cotton under contract. Under a document entitled "exercise of cotton option and pool agreement," the option-holder authorizes the secretary of agriculture to sell him the cotton covered by the option.

This authorization includes the right to sell the cotton in the pool at any time the cotton can be marketed on the basis of 15 cents a pound, middling seven-eights inches. After July 31, 1934, the secretary may sell and market the cotton at the price of the cotton, irrespective of the price.

The manager of the pool, to be designated by the secretary, is also authorized to sell any spot cotton held by the pool and replace it by the purchase of cotton futures contracts to cover the equivalent amount, to sell cotton futures contracts held by the pool and replace them with spot cotton purchases, to take delivery of cotton and to hedge on purchases.

Bullitt Visits Litvinoff
As First Act in Moscow

MOSCOW, Dec. 11.—(P)—The first act of William C. Bullitt after arriving in Moscow today was to pay a formal call on Com. Litvinoff, the first American ambassador to the Soviet Union. He spent a half hour in cordial conversation with the Soviet foreign minister.

Afterward, accompanied by Dr. T. Florinsky, chief of the protocol division of the foreign office, Mr. Bullitt inspected the "house of the central executive committee," which has offered him as a possible embassy site.

For the first time in the history of the Soviet republic the United States flag flew over Moscow in honor of the American ambassador. To it, Bullitt doffed his hat as he arrived at his hotel from the railway station.

785 WHITE COLLAR JOBS FOR GEORGIA IN NEW PROJECTS

CWA Announces Six Sta- tistical Departments To Employ Total of 17,724 in Nation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(P)—The civil works administration has announced the formation of six federal programs which officials said were planned to take care of 17,724 white collar workers under the supervision of three federal departments. The list included 785 jobs for Georgians.

Harry L. Hopkins, administrator, said he had authorized hiring of 1,033 workers for the bureau of labor statistics, 1,000 for the bureau of labor and pay rolls; 1,834 to be used by the census bureau to make a prompt replacement of 1,000 of widely used Atlanta streets. Among these are Piedmont road between Peachtree and Roswell road, South Pryor Street and Pryor road, the Newnan road, Piedmont avenue, West Lake avenue and other projects.

The division of agricultural finance will use 12,202 on a tax delinquency study dealing with land utilization and taxation policy and on farm mortgage financing. The crop and live stock division will employ 3,439 to collect information on prices of commodities farmers buy; the cotton

Bandits Trail Victim
And Rob Him of $280

Two unidentified white youths who robbed them at the North Fulton county convict camp Thursday night and escaped in a county automobile were captured in Atlanta Monday night a few minutes apart at their home on Plum street.

Edward Peacock, 23, who was serving a term of from 10 to 20 years for auto theft, was arrested by three city detectives who trailed him to the home of relatives and brought him out from behind a clothes basket on the back porch. He was held for county authorities.

A little while later Detectives Blair and Wallace returned to the house and arrested the Rev. Ray Floyd, 46, who had come to meet Peacock.

Floyd, the third of the escapes, was still at liberty.

$900,000 IN ROAD AND BUILDING JOBS APPROVED BY CWA

Fulton To Get Total of $430,000 Worth of Projects Passed; 3 Schools
Here Will Be Improved.

The Georgia civil works administration Monday announced the approval of the largest list of projects
since its establishment, nearly $900,- 000 being provided for public works, about $430,000 of which will be expended in Fulton county.

Outstanding among the permanent improvements in Fulton county will be additions to Atlanta schools, headed by a $100,000 addition to Morningside school and also additions to the Jerome Jones school and the Tenth Street school. The Jerome Jones project will cost $75,000 and the Tenth Street project about $30,000.

The Morningside school allotment will be increased from 10 to 12 acres building as it was originally planned, by adding a story with eight classrooms to increase the capacity of the school from 400 to 600 pupils, the temporary wooden classrooms to be eliminated. The Morningside school is now a one-story building, with four additional classrooms in temporary sheds.

Miss Gay B. Shepperson, executive director of the civil works administration, announced that the work would be started at once. A number of other Fulton county projects are pending and doubtless will be approved as soon as the administration's office forces can get through the maze of details attendant upon the project.

Work in Other Counties.

The CWA also announced during the day a program of projects in Bibb, Muscogee, Richmond and other counties, a detailed list of those obtaining sanction being sent to the county administrators by whom they will be made public.

The commission directing the work of the CWA in Georgia also proposed repayment of $1,000,000 of widely used Atlanta streets to a commissioner of the census bureau to make a survey of these streets.

First of Ten Opportunities Is Offered Atlanta Today

By ROY ROBERT.

Greater need can be met only with greater effort and sacrifice on the part of the fortunate who despite the economic depression have managed to hold jobs and earn an income.

There is no question that the need year than ever before.starvation and disease are howling at many doors and inside there are people who face certain disaster unless Atlanta responds to the appeal for Ten Opportu-

Opera With Lynching as Climax Soon To Be Produced in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—(AP)—An opera, with a lynching as the climax, is to be produced here for the first time Wednesday.

It is a one-act number called "Swing Low," the title being taken from the familiar spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Charley."

In it a mob of "convicts" one of the main characters, a negro, on circumstantial evidence of a crime he did not commit and hangs him.

The libretto is an adaptation of a play by Elmer Greenfelder, a Baltimorean, which has been produced by two "little theater" groups here. It was inspired by the lynching at Salisbury, Md., two years ago.

The music was written by Emmanuel nel Wad, the dean of Baltimore pianists and long one of the outstanding musical lights of the city.

The Baltimore Civic Opera Company is to produce it.

The idea that there were operatic possibilities in the play first occurred to Greenfelder. He sought out Wad and asked him to write the music.

The latter at first declined because of a somewhat souring experience with a opera in 1929. That year his "Tagwawa," based on American Indian life, was accepted by the Royal Opera of Copenhagen only to be side-tracked when there came a change in the acting secretary of state, William Phillips, and that he probably would dismiss current Cuban and American relations with President Roosevelt also.

Jefferson Caffery, who will succeed Wad as President Roosevelt's personal representative rather than as ambassador, will not reach Havana before Wad departs. Caffery is now vacationing at his home in Louisiana.

CLEVELAND SEEKS STATE ASSISTANCE

The superlatives with which the mayor has described the chaos in the treasury were lent color today when he went to Columbus, the state capital, to ask Governor George White for succor. The man proposed emergency legislation by the session now considering liquor control laws, and the governor late today agreed to the introduction of a bill tomorrow to authorize the issuance of temporary notes for $300,000.

Davis said the notes would be taken up as soon as the city can issue $1,200,000 in scrip, a fraction of the collection of delinquent taxes. The city, he added, needs the $300,000 by Wednesday. The laws already provide for emergency issues of scrip.

Tonight, however, County Auditor John A. Zangerle certified that the city could issue only $982,500 in scrip, $217,500 less than had been anticipated.

This was met by a statement from Finance Director Louis C. West that drastic reductions in the city government's pay rolls, probably involving temporary layoffs for several hundred employees, seem imperative.

West said the reduction of $217,500 in the anticipated expenditures between now and January 1 would have to be made largely in pay rolls.

If the $217,500 is absorbed, cuts in the salaries and wages of city employees will still mean a reduction of 31 per cent in the December 1 and December 15 pay rolls, West said.

Overdrafts as of January 1, 1934, will total $2,550,000, on the statement of administration experts, but the Chamber of Commerce was quick to point out.

"Cleveland is at present without active cash funds to meet its pay rolls, purchase supplies and make payment on past bills, however, the principal and interest on all bonds of the city have been paid promptly, when due, including those maturing in December 1933."

So like the varied descriptions of the fellows who went to see the elephant for the first time, the severity of Cleveland's financial crisis seemed to depend largely on the point of view.

In some quarters, indeed, the was pictured as living upon hand to mouth, and the financial press and the Chamber of commerce's integrity noted that the artistic designs in red ink on the cheques of ledgers referred only to the operating fund and not the sundry other funds, including those for retiring the public debt.

The Keystone of the Davis emergency legislation is the scrip, backed by the promise of Cleveland banks to advance $300,000 against it. Some $875,000 in scrip already has been issued. The finance director today figured the potential assets of the treasury, including undivided taxes, bank deposits, express agents at $1,925,000, leaving a balance of $75,000 after paying overdrafts.

An alternative being considered by Davis is the issuance of $10,000,000 in deficiency bonds.

mestic restriction of production was voted upon at the time.

Now the White House statement says the White House is to initiate the second part of the program and to correlate the two parts, the internal adjustment of production with such effective foreign purchasing power as may be developed by reciprocal tariffs, barter and other international arrangements.

Peek's committee probably will assist the state department, the farm administration and the alcohol control administration in finding new markets for American agricultural products and in eliminating barriers, or negotiating pacts which are expected to reopen trade channels clogged now by tariffs or other impediments.

Text.

The text of the White House statement said:

"Creation of a temporary committee to recommend permanent machinery to co-ordinate all government relations to American foreign trade, was announced today at the White House.

"The report of the committee and final action thereon is expected within two weeks.

"George Peck, agricultural adjustment administrator, having completed the organization period of the AAA, is designated to head this committee as special assistant to the president on American trade policy.

"The committee will include the members of the two departmental committees, the interdepartmental advisory board on reciprocal treaties, interdepartmental trade policy committee, and such other individuals as Mr. Peck may select.

"As far back as last March, in his discussion of the agricultural policy, the press was dissatisfied with Mr. Peck's feasibility and the advisability of reopening foreign markets for agricultural surpluses. It was decided at that time that the immediate domestic supply should be restricted, in view of the fact that foreign markets were closed temporarily by tariffs, quotas, etc., so that the immediate task was to restrict production until the machinery for the limitation of burdensome surpluses could be put in operation.

"Now the time has come to initiate the second part of the program and to correlate the two parts, the internal adjustment of production with such effective foreign purchasing power as may be developed by reciprocal tariffs, barter and other international arrangements.

"Mr. Peck will head the new organization when it is created."

Fundamental Difference.

Secretary Wallace regarded the dispute over policies as a fundamental difference in viewpoint between himself and the administrator.

Wallace's followers asserted that Peck had been loath to admit that the secretary had the final word in the matter of administration when the farm act was concerned. They said also that the administration did not regard production control as a particularly essential part of the effort to restore farm prosperity.

The secretary has insisted that any stabilization activities aimed to raise the price of farm products were worthless unless farm production was reduced.

Peck's followers, however, blamed much of the trouble on Tugwell and said that the removal of the farm act was concerned. They said also that the administration did not regard production control as a particularly essential part of the effort to restore farm prosperity.

Texas Minister Held
As 'Triangle' Slayer

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The Rev. C. C. Reneau, a former mission worker, was held today on a murder charge for the slaying of W. N. Shaw, 42, officers quoted him as saying he fired in defense of himself and his home.

Mr. Reneau, 34, told officers he was suspicious of Shaw's intentions to Mrs. Reneau, 28, and the wife corroborated her husband's story of being threatened by Shaw. She said the two men had quarreled and she knew her husband was jealous of the man in whose home they had lived several weeks, keeping house for him, while both men were employed under the civil works program. There are three Reneau children.

After his alleged ejection from the home Friday by Shaw, Reneau told officers he bought a pistol, returned to the house before dawn Sunday, saw Shaw sitting on a bed and fired at him through a window. Officials then quoted Reneau as saying he entered the house and fired at Shaw again.

ATTORNEYS CLOSE CASE FOR BOYKIN

Mysterious Note To Call Home of Juror Testified to by Witness.

The second occurrence which might suggest jury tampering in the Boykin-McRae libel suit was brought to the attention of Judge Hugh M. Dorsey, presiding at the trial in city court, when Monday afternoon Solicitor-General John A. Boykin's attorneys called to the witness stand Charlie Stewart, of the solicitor-general's office, who testified to a conversation between a juror who had been from the home of one of the jurors. The testimony resulted in an admonition to the jury by the court that any such future occurrences must be reported to the court by any juror having knowledge thereof, adding that in such event the court will try to find out who the officious person is.

Stewart testified that upon returning to the solicitor's office after an absence on Monday he was handed a memorandum to call a certain number on the telephone, and that when he called the number he was informed by a woman answering the call that it was the residence of one of the jurors in the case, the woman expressing ignorance as to any call having been left for Stewart. A check was made and the name of the juror in question ascertained and handed to court. The incident was reported to Judge Dorsey by Stewart immediately.

Brandt Under Citation.

This is the second occurrence in the suit which is said to savor of attempted jury-contacting. William F. Brandt is now under citation for contempt on charges preferred by George Finch, attorney for McRae, and a committee from the Atlanta Lawyers' Club is investigating the case and will report to the court within the next few days, when a hearing will be set. Brandt admitted the stand on the first day of the trial that he had a jury list but denied any attempt to approach any of the jurors.

Judge Dorsey expressed the opinion from the bench that neither of the principals in the suit had any part in the mysterious telephone call to which Stewart testified.

The Boykin forces Monday closed their presentation with the introduction in evidence of a bill of indictment drawn against the General Boykin, which "no bill" was returned by the March-April Fulton county grand jury. The bill presented to the grand jury at that time charged larceny after trust, and the investigation of the charges resulted in the appointment of Judge E. E. Danner, a solicitor general pro tem, to handle the case. The investigation by the grand jury, which resulted in Mr. Boykin's favor, Boykin claims McRae with having instigated the investigation and presented the bill in support of his libel contention.

Boykin's Case Closed.

Immediately following the closing of the trial, the original defendant in the action in which G. McRae sued Boykin for $100,000, and Boykin sued McRae for $300,000, each charging libel in connection with the recent race for the office of solicitor-general, George Finch, attorney for McRae, moved to exclude a mass of documents and evidence offered by Boykin, including all the statements of bank and telegraphic clerks, several depositions and letters and other matter. Finch contended that inasmuch as Boykin had not appeared as a witness in his own behalf to prove that at the time he made the alleged charges he possessed certain documents which Boykin contends justified the statements alleged to have been made, that such evidence is not admissible.

Judge Dorsey dismissed the jury for the day as soon as Finch made this motion in order to give the McRae side time to submit court decisions in support of their motion. The hearing on this point will be continued this afternoon and the court's rendering a decision thereto. McRae will begin the presentation of his evidence. Most of the evidence presented by Boykin has been in the form of lengthy depositions taken at various places, and has resulted in long technical arguments as to admissibility, and objections to portions of evidence which has been ruled admissible. It is expected, however, that most of McRae's evidence will be parole testimony.

Two Witnesses Testify.

Boykin on Monday presented two witnesses who testified as to utterances by McRae upon which Boykin based his action for libel. Ralph G. Smith, a former witness that he had listened to radio addresses by McRae in which were made the various charges which Boykin contends were libelous. County Police Lieutenant A. T. Butler testified that in an address made by McRae at a schoolhouse he heard McRae state "the first of my life when I am born I am destined to be put to John Boykin in the slow gang for stealing $450 from Fulton county" which McRae referred to the Art Young case, in which McRae is charging Boykin with having extorted money from Young after his return from Utah after Fulton county where he was under indictment. Butler also testified that McRae referred to the solicitor-general as "a buzzard" and stated that he was going to "clean out the buzzards."

For the expressed purpose of testing the witness' memory, Attorney George Finch read to Butler a transcript of the McRae speech in question, asking after each except whether the witness remembered hearing McRae make such statements in which the witness replied in several instances that he did not recall whether or not such statements were made.

Depositions Introduced.

A number of depositions were introduced at the morning session by Marion Smith, attorney for Boykin, among them being one of S. J. Tillman, who was indicted with McRae and others in the alleged $33,000 bribery transaction in Miami, which is the basis of the alleged Boykin charges upon which McRae is suing. Tillman, who stated in his deposition that he was engaged at the time the deposition was taken, in the business of "betting commission," denied upon cross-examination his deposition that he had ever paid "protection money" to Abe Cohen, who was justice of the peace at Miami. Cohen when Tillman is said to have operated a night club there. Tillman testified that he saw McRae put a roll of bills in his pocket after a conference with Abe Cohen, another Miami lawyer who was indicted with McRae in the alleged transaction. Tillman said that the roll of bills was small "and might have been $1000 or $1200." He testified further as to McRae's alleged visits to his safety deposit box on the two days succeeding the alleged transaction.

At the time of the presentation of Tillman's deposition, McRae's attorney made a vigorous fight to have it struck off the record that the witness refused to answer certain interrogatories, among them being one as to whether he had ever changed his name and one as to the name of his father. McRae contending that such answers were pertinent in that they related to the credibility of the witness, being overruled on the motion.

McRae Case Dismissed.

Boykin also introduced a deposition of Bob Taylor, Dade county prosecutor at the time of the alleged bribery, who testified that the charges preferred against McRae and others were dropped because of his inability to prove that the charges were brought for political reasons during McRae's race for the office of mayor of Miami Beach.

The double libel suit has been on trial for six days before Judge Hugh M. Dorsey, and it is expected that McRae will be longer in presentation than has been the case with opening and closing privilege by the court. McRae's suit is based upon Boykin's alleged statement that McRae has a "criminal record." Boykin's

White House Observes National Cheese Week

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(P)—The White House is celebrating American cheese week in a thoroughgoing fashion under Mrs. Roosevelt's supervision.

"This is cheese week," she told her press conference today, "and I will serve American cheese at every meal."

"How to do it differently on every menu is something of a problem."

"Luckily, it just happens that my husband loves cheese."

At the Thursday night dinner to the august supreme court, Mrs. Roosevelt said cream cheese probably would be served alongside the meal.

Atlanta's Booming Mule Mart at New Peak As 2,200 Animals Change Owners in Day

Activity at the Atlanta mule auction markets Monday, when 2,200 mules changed hands in a day's trading involving more than $250,000, is shown above. The picture presents part of a crowd of buyers at the stockyards, attracted by a boom in the mule market. Associated Press photo.

Atlanta's booming market in mules, developing consistently and healthily during the year as a shortage of the farm animals found them in greatly increased demand, Monday reached a new high amid scenes that reminded veteran dealers of the World War trading days as more than 2,200 mules changed hands out in the stock yard and auction marts.

Practically all of the mules sold in Atlanta are imported from states of the west, the southeast's mule-raising days having flickered out during the years when mules did not bring such high prices. Breeders of mules are again raising stock in the southeast, in view of the better demand, but it will be several years before the animals are old enough for sale, it was said.

The top price paid this season on the Atlanta market has been $600. Buyers commented Monday that the sudden demand for mules is the result of improved farming conditions and the belief of the farmers that the 95-cent minimums now in force would drive the cash and carries out of business.

Many who have been maintaining the fixed prices said their business had slumped alarmingly already. Most vigorous of all, Isidor Faust of New York, president of the National Rail-Dock Cleaners and Outlet Association, who admitted he had led a revolt against the prices, contended that no relief could have been obtained otherwise in time to save many of the businesses involved. Most speakers wanted a price fixed at 15 to 20 per cent lower than that for delivery service.

The opposing side had as chief spokesman N. J. Harkness, of the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers, who called the typical cash and carry business a "child of the depression" thriving on low prices, low wages and sweating of labor, uneconomically low rates of poor service to the consumer and making the most of "depression psychology."

The hearing was one of the most extraordinary ever held by NRA. In the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States were packed hundreds of cleaners and dyers who at the slightest provocation burst forth into a din of applause and rejoicing.

Hugh S. Johnson was treated as an ovation. A moment later a confessed violator who demanded lower fixed prices and charged his competitors with sending gangsters to drive him

HOOPER TO BE BURIED AT WATSEKA, ILL., TODAY

Clyde Hooper, 41, nationally-known vaudeville performer and a native of Atlanta, who died Saturday at Watska, Ill., of injuries suffered in an automobile accident, will be buried there today, Atlanta members of his family were advised Monday.

Mr. Hooper was a brother of Mrs. Luria Crawford, of 579 Cresthill avenue, N. E., and the uncle of Mrs. James Mobley, of Atlanta. His wife, the former Miss Eva Hartman, of Wichita, Kan., also survives.

MAE MURRAY MANSION IS SOLD AT AUCTION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(P)—The rose-colored beach mansion of Mae Murray, film actress and former wife of Prince David Mordoff, was auctioned off on the steps of the hall of justice today by a sheriff's deputy for $11,000. It cost $100,000.

The palatial Playa Del Rey home was bid in by attorneys for Mrs. Elizabeth Wood Stack, socially prominent widow of J. Langford Stack, polo player.

Four other pieces of property, including an apartment house in Pasadena, were bid in at $1 each, also by Mrs. Stack's attorneys. The auction was held to satisfy a $56,000 judgment recently obtained against Miss Murray by Mrs. Stack.

MAN ADMITS GUILT IN DUAL SLAYING

Robbery, Retaliation Are Given as Motives for Killing Oklahoma Pair.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Under heavy guard in the Kansas reformatory, Jack Wisdom, Kansas ranchhand, confessed today. Detective Captain W. O. Lyle, of Wichita, said that he participated in the kidnapping and slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pritchard of Wichita.

Lyle said that when the couple was shot to death by an accomplice, "Buck Smith," but authorities expressed belief that "Smith" was a fictitious character.

Pritchard's body was found today beneath a culvert near El Reno, Okla., soon after Wisdom was rushed from Kingfisher, Okla., to Kansas for safekeeping. His wife's body was discovered yesterday in a culvert near El Reno.

Wisdom was quoted as confessing he had a dual motive—robbery and retaliation for a threat by Pritchard to prosecute unless he made good a check given at Pritchard's store in Wichita, which was returned marked "no funds."

Minister of recent lynchings in San Jose, Cal., and St. Joseph, Mo., Governor William H. Murray, of Oklahoma, called out his national guardsmen last night to forestall possible mob violence.

Wisdom was brought here secretly, and Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, was asked to make a statement to this toward any attempt to establish a "lynch law" by calling out the Kansas guard if necessary.

Captain Lyle said Wisdom told him he did not kill Elmer Large, the elderly cowboy with whom he worked on a ranch in Meade county, Kansas. Large's bullet-pierced body was found in a well November 30, about two months after he had disappeared and Wisdom had told their rancher-employer, "the old man has quit."

MAN HELD IS THOUGHT FUGITIVE FROM INDIANA

Harry Goldberg, 30, of Detroit, Mich., bound over last week for cheating and swindling in connection with attempts to sell a cheap perfume, Detective J. W. Cody for $1,000 wanted in Anderson, Ind., for jumping $25,000 bail. Detective Cody said Monday, Goldberg denied that he was wanted on any charge in Indiana.

By a stroke of good fortune, Detective Cody and H. H. Ramsaur Monday discovered an old circular with a picture they said was Goldberg and retelling that he had fled for Indiana. Officer Goldberg was arrested Friday when he attempted to sell the perfume which bore a price tag of $17.50 to Detective Cody. On his person were found a number of $17.50 stickers and he was bound over under $2,000 bond for cheating and swindling.

SCHOOLS WILL STAGE FOOD SHOW THURSDAY

Children of the Joel Chandler Harris school will on Thursday put on a program of dancing and singing, followed by a food show, under the auspices of the P.T.A. The festivities will last from 3 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Aldine Carson is president of the P.T.A. and Mrs. J. L. Gathlin is chairman of the food show. The following manufacturers will be represented at the food show:

Barrett Food Products Co., Kellogg Sales Co., General Foods, American Bakers, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Best Foods, Pillsbury Flour Mills, Pedigree Dairies, Raley Brothers, Standard Brands, Ballard & Ballard and Loos-Wiles Biscuit Co.

VETS' COMMANDER, STAFF COMING HERE

J. P. Lubetkin, commander of the Georgia department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and his staff will visit the Atlanta veterans' administration hospital No. 48 Thursday.

Included in the party will be R. L. Henry, of Kennesaw, senior vice commander; R. R. Miller, of Valdosta; J. O. Leary, of Columbus, chief of staff; H. Weisberger, of Savannah, Inspector; A. Wiman, of Savannah, patriotic instructor; H. C. Peterson, of Fort Benning, sergeant-at-arms, and W. K. Barnett, of Savannah, past department commander.

Owl, Caught in Wires, Causes Burglar Scare

A frantic call to police headquarters Monday night that burglars were in a garage apartment at 552 Park drive, N. E., sent Officers W. J. Stephens and M. B. Stroud, of the radio cruising squad—to find a hooting owl "burglarizing the place."

It was discovered because the lights were switched on and off, people in the neighborhood believed that a burglar was at work while the occupant of the apartment was away. The officers drew their guns and charged into the room and a flashlight revealed that the owl had been entangled in the switch string and as he attempted to fly away, switched the light on and off. The owl was "arrested" and carried to police headquarters by the police men.

EASTERN HARVEST MOUSE.

Those of you who have manifested a lively interest in the mouse article in this column, as well as the long reader who protested vigorously against them, are invited to make the acquaintance of the Eastern Harvest Mouse, known to the professors as Reithrodontomys humulis. This species of mouse is a close relative of the golden and white-footed mice that we discussed several times before, all of them, with a few exceptions, being placed in the subfamily Cricetinae. It may be immediately distinguished from other members of this subfamily by the presence of longitudinal grooves in the upper incisors.

The harvest mouse is another one of those species which is recorded from the coastal plain regions of this state. The habitat is the same, and build nests of grasses either on the ground or in low shrubs. Sometimes deserted bird nests are utilized, as in the case of the golden mice. They are not as abundant as other mice, which is fortunate for agricultural men, for they would be a serious menace should they ever become too plentiful and turn to cultivated crops for food. Only the eternal vigilance of hawks, owls and predatory animals or dried peach will provide me with all the specimens I can use.

Prichard's body was found today beneath a culvert near El Reno, Okla., soon after Wisdom was rushed from Kingfisher, Okla., to Kansas for safekeeping. His wife's body was discovered yesterday in a culvert near El Reno.

Wisdom was quoted as confessing he had a dual motive—robbery and retaliation for a threat by Pritchard to prosecute unless he made good a check given at Pritchard's store in Wichita, which was returned marked "no funds."

Key Asks Prosecution Of 6 Pct. Beer Sellers

Prosecution of beer dealers who "fudge" on the city by selling beer at a higher alcoholic content than the 3.2 per cent by weight on the 4 per cent by volume brew allowed under the city ordinance, Monday was asked of Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant by Mayor James L. Key in a letter drawing attention to complaints that a most popular brew than authorized is being sold.

Mayor Key wrote Chief Sturdivant that the city ordinance permits the sale of 3.2 per cent beer but does not authorize sale of a beer having a higher alcoholic content. Mayor Key said that 3.2 per cent beer is not to be sold in bars, but that the bars will not be let down for the sale of stronger stuff until the state boozedry act is repealed. Council's enactment of the 3.2 per cent beer ordinance was upheld by juries which refused to convict sellers of the brew under the state law.

To get back to the harvest mice, however, let me say that they are very similar to the house mouse, but are distinguishable on color alone, being brown instead of the monotone gray of the house mouse. In size the adult harvest mouse will be found to be four and one-half to five inches long, including some two or two and four-tenths inches of tail. For a mouse, said before, is fortunately wild fruit, seeds and grains instead of cultivated varieties. Instead of being active only at night, as are the deer mice, they have no regular hours of sleep, but are always active. They do not hibernate, so I need not fear to set out in winter for the purpose of finding harvest mice to study. Probably baiting with fresh apple or dried peach will provide me with all the specimens I can use.

They are not as abundant as other mice, which is fortunate for agricultural men, for they would be a serious menace should they ever become too plentiful and turn to cultivated crops for food. Only the eternal vigilance of hawks, owls and predatory animals or dried peach will provide me with all the specimens I can use.

numbers to her ballet which will be staged at the charity ball.

Brigade Parade Set.

Suffice it to say that all indications point to the biggest and most glorious parade Atlanta has ever seen. And tickets for the ball are going like hot cakes. Hundreds of Legionnaires and service men and women are all working hard. There will be many difficulties.

Santa Claus will lead the grand march. Distinguished Atlantans will occupy boxes and reserved seats. Wonderful music, a wonderful ballroom, Christmas time and every cent saved from the sale of tickets is being devoted to charity. Tickets for the charity ball are on sale at the following locations: All Lane Drug Stores, all Jacobs' Drug Stores, Piedmont hotel, Scheer's, Shrine mosque, Santa Claus headquarters, 137 Peachtree Arcade; Regenstein's Peachtree store, stocking company, Nat Kaisen's, Westside Station, Atlanta Golf Shop, Miles Service Station, R. R. Jennings Studio, Birch's, Murphy's, Parks-Chambers Co., Zachry's, High's, Davis &amp; McLarty, Citizens and Southern bank, First National bank, Fulton National bank, Trust Company of Georgia, Atlanta Athletic Club, Hirsch Brothers, Mirror, Maytag, King, Hardware Co., M. &amp; S. Appliance, Street Garage, Miner and Carter, For Market, LeGrand Jewelry Company, North Side Pharmacy, Fowler's Restaurant, Lottix Pharmacy, Friedman's Pharmacy and Ossin Pharmacy.

Additional details of the big parade will be given each day in the The Constitution.

Letters to Santa Claus

Christmas time is a time of joy and happiness; a time when everyone is smiling and laughing; a time when the care of a work-a-day world are laid aside as people think of the happier things in life.

It is appropriate that Santa Claus will bring with him on his epochal visit to Atlanta on next Friday, a company of clowns and merry-makers who will aid the children and grownups of this community in making this Christmas the happiest time of their lives.

The funny section of Santa Claus Christmas Pageant will prove one of the most popular with all ages. With Santa will be some of the most famous clowns in America—clowns dressed up in ridiculous costumes, with their faces painted up in a manner that would draw a smile from old Scrooge himself, were a giant old Scrooge a resident of this city.

They will cavort and mince along the entire line of march to the tent city, making wise-cracks, waving to the grandmothers and grandfathers, patting the heads of the children and throwing kisses to the young ladies.

Your little friend,
GLORIA NEEDHAM,
Mountain View, Ga.

Dear Old Santa:

Just think, next Friday night is the night for you to be here. Santa I hope you will want to ride with your children in the train. I have written you three letters. I hope they didn't get lost. I haven't seen my name in the paper. I want you to remember the poor children first, and then bring me a new coat, watch and blackboard. I am in first grade at E. River's school. I'm counting the days until next Friday. You are a real friend to come out in the cold to see all us children.

Lots of love,

JACQUELINE DE LOACH,
102 Roanoke Ave., N. E.

Dear Santa Claus:

I have been good. I am five years old. I live with my mother and daddy. Uncle Wm. and daddy's mother, lives with us. I love all three dearly. I have curly hair and big blue eyes. I hope you can bring me a big rubber doll, some roller skates and if possible a real live dog. Mother and I took in a little lost dog and cared for it for two weeks. Its master came for it. It nearly broke my heart but I was sorry for the little girl who owned it. I will have it back. I don't go to school but study a lot at home. My mother and daddy help me. I love you. I would love to give you a real big hug around the neck. I think you are worth at least hundred dollars to give little children all the pretty things you do.

Lots of love,

JOYCE McADAMS,
748 McDonough Road, S. E.

My Dear St. Nick:

I am a little 9-year-old girl and in Low 3. I love you very much. My name is Beverly Joy Neely. I hope to be in the parade with you. At school we are having a play about you. There is only one I would like to have. It is for everybody to be happy. If you are not enough for everybody, leave me out, just so somebody else is happy.

With love,

BEVERLY NEELY,
1670 Pelham Road.

To the Dearest Old Santa:

I am a little boy 5 years old and I want you to bring me a tricycle and some nuts and candy. Santa please don't forget my little brother Billy and my sister, also mother and daddy—bring them something, too. Please, Santa Claus I didn't see you last Christmas as I was in the hospital with scarlet fever and a burned toe, and didn't see all. Will you let me bring your little boy next Friday night the 15th and sit beside you please?

Love and kisses,

JACKIE HINTON,
185 1/2 Mills St.

Dear Santa Claus:

I am so glad you are coming to Atlanta. I can't hardly wait to see you. Please Santa bring me a little doll, raincoat set and some fruit. I am a little girl 5 years old in kindergarten. My teacher is Miss Lyngar. Santa please don't forget the poor and sick children. Goodbye.

Lots of love,

VIRGINIA LANGLEY,
118 Dearborn St.

Dear Sweet Santa Claus:

I can hardly wait for Christmas to come for it is so near I just can't wait to put on my cowboy suit and see my other toys. I want you to bring me a cowboy suit, a scooter, pistol and a harp. I sure hope I can ride in the parade with you for I know I will be lots of fun to get a toy and to ride in the parade.

I have three little brothers than I am don't forget them, too. Well, Santa, I am just hoping I will get to ride with you. Don't forget the children that has no father or mother. Well, good-by for this time.

Lots of love,

J. D. GRIFFITH,
985 Marietta St.

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a little girl 5 years old. I have been a good little girl. I mind my mother. Would like to ride in your parade.

As it is getting nearly Christmas and as you know it's only 13 more days until you will make only the good little boys and girls happy. Santa I know you will be so busy I am not going to ask you for much. My little brother comes first, his name is Carly Jr. I hope he wants a wagon train, cowboy suit and some fireworks. Now Santa don't forget my sweet mother and father and be sure to think of all the unfortunate little boys and girls. Now, dear Santa Claus, I am

Successful Organ Transplanting Reported by Baltimore Surgeon

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11.—(P)—Parts of organs have been transplanted from one person to another almost invariably has died within a few weeks.

In Dr. Stone's method the tissue is grown for a time outside the body in a culture medium made from the blood serum of the prospective recipient of the transplant.

The tissue becomes adapted to its future host, and when finally implanted in him, grows quite normally and survives for an indefinite time.

Only a few cells from the healthy glands are used, and in the normal course, the missing tissue is rapidly replaced.

Patients in whom the thyroid and parathyroid glands had been transplanted successfully were described by Dr. Stone. The work has been carried on for some time with the collaboration of Dr. J. C. Owings and Dr. G. O. Guy.

Visiting physicians said the discovery was of considerable practical importance, for it appears that individuals who have lost some essential gland can now be permanently cured.

This is the first time the practices in the past where patients have had to be treated daily by gland extracts for the rest of their lives. Such treatments were not always effective.

Cravey Is Choice For Game-Fish Job

Governor Eugene Talmadge made it known Monday that Zack Cravey, who recently resigned as tax collector of Telfair county, would be the next commissioner of game and fish for Georgia.

Cravey, long-time personal and political friend of the chief executive, will succeed Peter S. Twitty, veteran of 10 years' service as commissioner, on January 1.

The chief executive confirmed published reports that Cravey would get the job, but said he had not yet made the appointment.

Twitty passed the governor's selection for the post and urged sportsmen of the state to give the new commissioner the "wholehearted co-operation they have given me. After all," Twitty added, "the work and the cause is infinitely more important."

Commissioner Twitty said he was not ready to announce his plans for the future. He was appointed commissioner by former Governor Clifford Walker in 1923 and has been in office at post since.

Twitty is in the campaign for governor last summer, Twitty announced as a candidate but withdrew before the election.

George West Elected Home Loan Director

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—As a result of secret balloting at the election held December 5 in the Winston-Salem regional home loan bank, George W. West, president of the First Mutual Building & Loan Association of Atlanta, was chosen director for a three-year term, officials of the federal home loan bank board announced today.

The Winston-Salem bank serves district No. 4, which comprises the states of Georgia, Maryland, North and South Carolina, Virginia and Florida and the District of Columbia.

Previous balloting in the fourth district had resulted in a tie between Mr. West and Walter McElreath.

FRANCE ASKS HITLER TO CLARIFY PROPOSAL

Envoy Seeks To Learn What Nazi Wants in Peace Plan.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—(P)—France, through Andre Francois-Poncet, the French ambassador to Berlin, asked Chancellor Adolf Hitler today, exactly what he wanted in his European peace plan built on a strong and "equal" Germany.

The ambassador asked the chancellor to clarify "certain parts" of his program, officials said.

M. Francois-Poncet was instructed to ask for more complete information on Hitler's program in an interview on Tuesday.

No definite reply has been given regarding Hitler's desires regarding direct negotiations on European problems between the two nations.

Foreign Minister Joseph Paul Boncquet, who is in Berlin, met yesterday with the German ambassador to Paris, Roland Koester, at the same time that Hitler and Francois Poncet were talking in Berlin.

Officially it was said that the conversation of Paul Boncquet and Koester had nothing to do with the main Franco-German negotiations which were being conducted entirely in Berlin.

Specifically, it was said, the French envoy requested further information as to the status of the Nazi storm troopers, which France considers a part of the German armed forces.

LAST SERVICES TODAY FOR FLOYD C. COOPER

Funeral services for Floyd C. Cooper, 51, a member of the legal and real estate department of the Gulf Refining Company, who died Sunday morning, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill. Dr. Ryland Knight will officiate and interment will be in Crest Lawn cemetery, with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

Mr. Cooper had been connected with the Gulf Refining Company for several years. He was a member of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, and of the F. J. Paxton Bible class.

Surviving Mr. Cooper are his wife, a son, Floyd C. Cooper Jr.; his mother, Mrs. Walter J. Cooper, of Mobile, Ala., and three sisters, Mrs. Renfroe Trippie, and Mrs. Richard Moore and Mrs. Milton Ladd, of Mobile.

ASTAIRE, CLAIRE LUCE APPLAUSED BY ROYALTY

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(P)—The American musical comedy stars, Fred Astaire and Claire Luce, drew applause from King George and Queen Mary with a dance from the "Gay Divorcee" in a command performance today.

The king and queen leaned forward in their seats to watch the stars. The crowd cheered their arrival at the Drury Lane theater for the performance, funds of which went to King George's pension fund for actors and actresses.

Fourth of Speakeasies Survive One Wet Week

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(P)—Police Commissioner James S. Bolan today that only 1,928 New York speakeasies have survived the first week of repeal.

He estimated there were 8,000 speakeasies here a few days before repeal. Former Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen estimated there were 32,000 here a few years ago.

The majority of the surviving speakeasies are in Manhattan. Bolan said. He estimated there are 1,444 in that borough, 216 in the Bronx, 149 in Queens, 66 in Brooklyn and 53 in Richmond.

NRA COMPLIANCE BOARD QUITS AFTER CRITICISM

LOWELL, Mass., Dec. 11.—(P)—All but members of the local compliance board of NRA today submitted their resignations to General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, because of what they described as local criticism.

The board members informed General Johnson yesterday that they had worked under embarrassing and annoying criticism, and had not received the local co-operation for which they had asked.

Planners who join in the program, he said, will be required to displace a few tenants as possible and to give all the workers enough of the acreage that is taken out of cotton production to raise food crops.

"We will try to impress upon the planter his duty to care for the tenant and for the general cotton laborer," Johnson said.

RELIEF PLAN OUTLINED FOR COTTON PLANTERS

Results U. S. Hopes To Obtain Are Detailed To Growers.

MEMPHIS, Dec. 11.—(P)—The government today told cotton planters and businessmen of five states what the 1934 crop reduction plan would do for them—and what they would be expected to do in return.

Spokesman for the government at the huge meeting, attended by planters, businessmen and agricultural agents of 400 counties in Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi, was Oscar Johnston, finance administrator of the agricultural adjustment administration and former manager of one of the world's largest staple cotton plantations.

The program, which will affect thousands of tenant farmers, who won't be needed to produce a curtailed crop, will be left more to the decency of cotton planters than to hard and fast rules, Johnston said.

Planters who join in the program, he said, will be required to displace a few tenants as possible and to give all the workers enough of the acreage that is taken out of cotton production to raise food crops.

"We will try to impress upon the planter his duty to care for the tenant and for the general cotton laborer," Johnston said.

"I Bank Where
THE BANKERS BANK!"

Did you ever know that banks deposit with other banks?

It may interest you to learn that nearly five hundred banks have money on deposit in THE CITIZENS & SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

Which means that conservative and experienced bank officers have scrutinized the Citizens & Southern with a care and a knowledge which you and I could not be expected to possess and have passed judgment by depositing thousands of dollars.

Money must move—it must be distributed to centers where industry and agriculture can use it to advantage. Accordingly, when banks find themselves possessed of more money than can be used in their own communities, they deposit with larger banks in the active cities. That is part of the active function of our national bank structure.

When more than five hundred banks certify the Citizens & Southern, I am perfectly willing to take their judgment—so I bank where the bankers bank.

ATLANTA, GA., DEC. 12, 1933.

THIS YEAR'S "OPPORTUNITIES."

The peculiar appeal to the charitable-minded of the "Ten Opportunities" annually presented at Christmas time by The Constitution and the Family Welfare Society has caused the necessary fund to be over-raised each year since 1919,
when the movement was launched.

The "Opportunities" furnish a chance for personal charity, safeguarded by the organized charities of the city. Many people, although liberal contributors to the Community Chest, receive a more keen joy in knowing just where their aid is bringing hope into the darkness of despair, hunger and sickness.

It is to these generous-hearted people that the "Opportunities" present the greatest appeal. It is but natural that a man of intense devotion in his wife and children should find keen happiness in the knowledge that through his liberty another such little family group will have nothing to fear
throughout the coming year.

A woman who is happy because she is able to care for her own mother, will find comfort in the fact that she is able to keep distress from somebody else's mother.

Since 1919 the few little family groups have each year been brought protection, renewed health and joy through the bounty of the generous-hearted Atlanta men and women who have put the various "Opportunity" funds over the top.

This year The Constitution, in collaboration as usual with the Family Welfare Society, will present another group of families, and tell the pathetic story of each. They are the most deserving and their distress the most acute of all the unfortunate men, women and children in the city.

A gift to this fund means not only rescue from want of these unhappy families, but the inspiring knowledge to every donor that on every day of the year their generosity is bearing fruit in the existence of brightness and renewed hope in homes that otherwise would have been dark.

GYPSIES SHOULD BE BARRED.

Alderman Millican's announced intention to seek a reconsideration of the action by which gypsies were licensed to do business within the city limits will be approved by public sentiment.

As the result of council's action setting a $200 annual fee for this type of "business," the city has already begun to be overrun with clairvoyants, fortune tellers, palmists and phrenologists. They will take far more out of the city than the amount they will spend, and being of nomadic nature they cannot be listed as desirable citizens.

If the license fee is permitted to remain, it means that bands of nomads will flood the city each fall and spring, pausing here to mulct
the gullible while on their way to and from Florida, to which they trek in winter.

The little money that they will pay into the city treasury is not justification for their licenses.

Council should rescind its action permitting these gypsies to set up temporary quarters in the heart of the city—and the board of county commissioners should protect the outskirts as they have done in the past.

Out of all financial plans, the most unpopular is the cash plan.

NEED FOR NEW PRISON.

The escape of 10 prisoners from the state prison camp at Milledgeville
accomplished with but little more difficulty than merely walking away from their place of confinement, emphasizes the wisdom of Governor Talmadge's plan for the construction of a new prison.

So numerous have been the escapes from Milledgeville during the past few years that they are now accepted as almost a matter of course. Responsibility cannot be charged entirely against the prison
management. Its dilapidated condition and its antiquated and inefficient provisions for confining
those who are serving terms for infractions of the law makes it impossible to prevent escapes.

For years the inadequacy of the state prison has been a reproach to the state. Time and time again
desperate criminals have broken out
of their cells, held up automobile drivers
and raided homes and stores.

The governor realizing the seriousness of the situation acted promptly in working out an agreement under which federal funds could be secured for the erection of a prison on the land already purchased by the state for this purpose in Tattnall county.

When this prison is completed it will mean that those sentenced by the courts of the state for breaking the law will be kept there. It will be a welcome change from the present condition.

Dynamo Kemal.

Since Kemal Pasha came to power, he has electrified 600 towns and villages. He has built hundreds of schools. He has paved the ancient roads, opened the harbors, liberated the slaves, and has in all ways possible infused a new spirit into an old land. There is no question but that his neighbor, Russia, has largely served him as an example. Nobody else took any interest in Turkey after the war. She had lost the last of her outlying provinces. In the course of a century she lost control over the following: Rumania, Bulgaria, Greece, Serbia, Egypt, Tripoli, Syria, Mesopotamia, Palestine, Arabia, and the last war snatched so much of her territory in Europe that it takes the train but an hour or so to run through it.

But she has retained Anatolia. To make a modern, up-to-date, progressive country out of this neglected land is Kemal's objective. It is a hard job, a tremendous job. But he is succeeding. Fundamentally, the Turk is no less intelligent than any other people, but he has a more warlike instinct than an English pacifist.

All that stuff about the Turk being a born warrior is nonsense. A man's inclinations change completely in relation to his economic outlook. In the era of feudalism, which is only now drawing to a close in Turkey, there was gain in war and looting. In the era of nationalism, which the Turk perfectly turns his attention into other directions, I know no more offensive, kindly and industrious people than the Turkish peasants in their villages here. There is one thing especially in which Turkey lags behind: Hygiene and medical aid.

Kemal welcomed the offer of Dr. Einstein's call for the admission of German refugees to come in and open clinics and hospitals. But even a score of prominent medical men is not enough. They need an army of doctors here. Disease is ravaging unchecked in the rural regions. The new German doctors can be the educators of a new Turkish genera- tion.

In the course of a year, I know, the Turkish peasants in the rural regions will be as healthy as any other people in the world. That is the real solution.

HANDS UP AND SAVE A LIFE.

In any emergency where a person is known from drowning and resuscitation is indicated it must be conceded that life hangs by a slender thread and therefore it is only human to consider seriously the weight of every recommendation that an intelligent person may make concerning the method of treatment. I don't mean that the person or the person in charge should listen to the words or suggestions of casual bystanders or official busbodies at the moment of emergency—it is too late then to argue or to change your method. All this ought to be studied out as part of one's preparation to serve in the course of instruction in first aid.

I have explained here many times why the method of artificial respiration taught by American Red Cross instructors is wrong. I have challenged the representatives of the organization to explain why the method has been modified under the approval of the American Red Cross.

Peek It is a happy solution of an unfortunate situation which found the municipal government in the position where, without this aid, it would have been forced to take a step which would bring hardship to many of its citizens in the threat of loss of their homes. Hundreds of Atlanta home owners have been unable to keep up with their taxes during recent years and they should not now, as the depression is lifting and most of them will soon be able to take care of their arrears as a result of the city's having sold the fl. fa. issued against these properties.

Had the city been forced to go ahead with the fl. fa. sale it would have lost the accrued interest which, because of the very low rate of interest to be charged by the Coca-Cola Company, would have cost the city between $25,000 and $30,000.

Mayo Key has been prompt to express the appreciation of the municipal government for the unselfish action of this outstanding Atlanta business institution, and the thousands of city employees who will receive their pay promptly, and the many home owners from whom have been removed the shadow of foreclosure, will give due credit to this gratifying instance of public service by the officials of a private company.

Alderman Gilliam, actuated chiefly by the humanitarian desire to prevent the distress to so many Atlanta families which would have been the result of the fl. fa. sale, went about the solution of a difficult problem in an efficient way in keeping with the fine service he has rendered for many years as a member of city council.

Confidence is certainly returning. Some bootleggers will now people.

now accepted as almost a matter of course. Responsibility cannot be charged entirely against the prison
management. Its dilapidated condition and its antiquated and inefficient provisions for confining
those who are serving terms for
infractions of the law makes it impossible to prevent escapes.

For years the inadequacy of the
state prison has been a reproach to
the state. Time and time again
desperate criminals have broken out
of their cells, held up automobile drivers
and raided homes and stores.

The escape of 10 prisoners from
the state prison camp at Milledgeville
accomplished with but little
more difficulty than merely walking away from their place of confinement, emphasizes the wisdom of Governor Talmadge's plan

Blizzards in Middle West and East To Send Cold Weather Here Today

Colder weather today, following Monday's blizzards in the middle west and northeast, was predicted for today by the United States weather bureau here.

Today was expected to show a range of 30 to 45 degrees, with partly cloudy but rainless conditions. This will contrast with Monday's range of 48 to 61 degrees and Sunday's 33 to 56. There was no rainfall Monday.

Temperatures of 24 degrees below zero and the loss of eight lives was reported in Monday's severe cold in western and eastern states, which promised to moderate today.

Owl's Head, N. Y., produced a December record with 24 below, western Wisconsin 16. In below, North Dakota 14, while at Virginia, Minn., it was 23 below.

The loss of lives occurred in the eastern states. In both eastern and western sections heavy snows, driven by gales, interfered with traffic and caused fatalities in automobile accidents.

This sudden onslaught of pre-winter coldness banished the mild conditions

Bronchial Troubles Need Creomulsion

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote and new medical discovery which has a two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, and attacks the seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent cough and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Your own druggist is authorized to refund your money on the spot if your cough or cold is not relieved by Creomulsion. (adv.)

Mayor Will Nominate Dobbs, Harris to Board

Nominations of Samuel C. Dobbs Sr. and Arthur I. Harris as members of the Grady hospital board of trustees to succeed themselves will be sent to city council soon by Mayor James L. Key for confirmation by council.

Mr. Dobbs has been chairman of the board since its organization several years ago to take the city hospital's affairs out of politics. The board elects its own chairman. The trustees are scheduled to hold a meeting at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Mr. Dobbs' office for transaction of routine business.

Terms of Mr. Dobbs and Mr. Harris expire at the end of this year.

MRS. EVELYN DE LANEY IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. Evelyn DeLaney, 35, of 307 Hayden street, was found dead in her room Monday afternoon. Mrs. DeLaney appeared to be in good health Sunday night, members of her household said. G. R. Haney, who resides in the house, went to the woman's room Monday morning and found her dead, apparently as the result of a heart attack.

The body was taken to Blanchard Brothers. Policemen who investigated sought relatives of the woman.

FREEZONE FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why flow is scanty and sometimes smarts and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

But buy now and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine right from Haarlem in Holland. All good things are imitated. (adv.)

Railroad Fares Reduced Pullman Surcharge Eliminated

Passenger fares on the Central of Georgia Railway system and other railroads in the Southeast have been reduced 44 per cent for an experimental period of six months. The rate per mile for travel in coaches has been reduced from 3.6 cents to 2 cents, and for travel in Pullman cars to 3 cents without surcharge. Similar reductions are in effect on all railroads west of the Mississippi River.

Round trip tickets, good in all classes of equipment, are on sale every day, with 30-day limit 2½ cents per mile; the 15-day limit is 2 cents per mile.

Round trip Winter Tourist tickets to resorts in Alabama, Georgia and Florida are on sale during the Winter Tourist Season at extremely low rates—(Season, 30-day and 15-day tickets), with choice of several routes. On Season tickets you can go one route, return another, and you can stop off anywhere enroute on all Winter Tourist tickets.

These reductions in passenger fares make travel by train the least expensive of all modes of transportation when you consider that you are not only transported from place to place in safety and comfort—by night or day—in all kinds of weather, but that you can relax, read, rest, recreate, sleep, dine, smoke, play cards and other games. Trains are steam-heated in cold weather and cooled by fans and other means in warm weather. Ice water and sanitary drinking cups are provided.

You don't have to worry about the other fellow's responsibility when traveling by train—the railroad is thoroughly responsible for your safety. Picked men with years of experience and periodical examination for eyesight and physical fitness run trains.

Our through trains between the Northwest and Georgia, Alabama and Florida are—The Seminole—The Floridian, via Birmingham; Dixie Flyer—Dixie Limited—The Southland—The Flamingo, via Atlanta. These trains are equipped with Coaches, Pullman, Dining and Observation cars. They offer you the best of everything in Train Travel.

Inquire of the railroad Passenger or Ticket Agent, he will quote you rates and schedules, tell you of the several routes and assist you in planning your trip.

Take advantage of the reduced rates and Travel by Train. Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

R. H. DOBBS SR.

Sunday at his residence at 941 Springdale road, N. E., were held Monday afternoon at the Spring Hill Chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

Dr. John B. Myers, pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church of which Mr. Dobbs was an active member and steward, and Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, conducted the services. Interment was in West View cemetery.

Mr. Dobbs was a native of Cherokee county but had resided in Atlanta for 38 years and had been identified with the insurance company he headed throughout his business career. He died of a heart attack. He was widely known in fraternal circles as well as in business.

2 NEGROES GET CHANCE TO APPLY FOR PAROLE

Parker H. Lee and George S. Davis, negroes serving 25-year sentences for armed robbery and murder following their conviction five years or more ago in the District of Columbia, Monday were ordered back to Washington by Judge E. Marvin Underwood of the district federal court so that they may under a recent law, apply for parole.

The court held that under the law passed by Congress, which forbids parole of indeterminate sentences and parolees, persons convicted of federal offenses in the District of Columbia are entitled, after they have served a fifth of their sentence, to apply for paroles. These prisoners continued to apply for parole.

For barbers and clerical employees $13 to $15; for manicurists $8 to $10 a week; for bootblacks and brushboys $60 to $7.50 a week. These rates are exclusive of commissions, gratuities or tips.

For Atlanta barbers, however, the minimum rates named above may be reduced by not more than $1 a week but no part-time employee shall receive less than 30 cents an hour.

Barbers will be permitted to work 50 hours a week for barbers and 48 hours for manicurists and clerical employees. Opening and closing hours will be established for barber shops for each region or local area. Barbers and manicurists also will be required to finish serving all patrons who arrived and remain in

When it comes to Christmas shopping (and it is coming to that, isn't it), your street car line is the line of least resistance. It's the smoothest route to take on your way to Merry Christmas, especially if you shop in the hours between the morning and evening rush.

The operator of the car is delighted to take over your traffic worries, pick you up near your home and put you down at your favorite store. # "AMERICAN" Marches Ahead!

• and who's behind the line of march!

IT'S who is behind "AMERICAN" MARCHES AHEAD—and what it means to you—that counts!

Let's look at the facts! The American Oil Company is an important member of the Pan American Petroleum & Transport Company group, a major factor in the oil industry. Principal companies of this group are:

American Oil Company
Mexican Petroleum Corporation (Mo.)
Pan American Refining Company
Pan American Pipeline Company
Mexican Petroleum Corporation of Georgia
Lord Baltimore Filling Stations, Inc.

These companies represent one of the large and important oil units of the country. Very big resources, large available crude production and extensive pipe line systems, refineries, complete research laboratories, large tank car and motor truck fleets, numerous ocean terminals, many hundreds of bulk plants, and thousands of service station outlets.

Where and How They Serve

In addition to its refining and allied activities, Pan American Petroleum & Transport Company, through its various companies named above, does an extensive business along the entire Atlantic Seaboard, from Maine to Florida, and elsewhere. They market a big volume of various petroleum products—motor fuel, gasoline, lubricants, kerosene, range oil, heating oils, heavy fuel oils and asphalt. A complete petroleum service!

AMERICAN OIL CO.

But above all, the coming of American means that hereafter its famous products—among them AMOCO-GAS, the original special motor fuel; Orange American Gas, the best gasoline selling at regular gas price; and AMOCO Motor Oils—will be available along the entire Atlantic Seaboard, from Maine to Florida, and elsewhere. And that means new fuel economies to motorists in our new territory* and extended service to motorists of our old territory*.

Now Coaches Can Talk Themselves Right Out of a Job

"Say," he said, "I haven't got much time before I get this train. But isn't the carnage awful? It's getting tougher all the time. Why, now a football coach can lose his job by speaking incorrect English."

"But I've got it figured out. I'll never be caught napping. I'll know at least a full season in advance, or at least several months in advance. It's easy. I'll always have time to start shopping around."

"How is that?" asked the inquiring reporter, curious to a fault, as he talked with a coach en route home from the New Orleans coaches' meeting.

"It's all so easy," said the coach, looking to see that his tickets were safe. "Have we got time to get a drink? It's a cinch. Pardon me for using slang. Don't let anyone know, will you? I mean to say, it is comparatively simple if one devotes meticulous care to the case at hand."

"You simply watch the newspapers. When the president of the alumni association issues a statement that all is well and that the splendid old institution of Siwash college is interested in producing young men and building character, and not merely in the business of winning football games, it is time to become uneasy and start sending out feelers. Don't quote me that way. Say it is time to begin insinuating one's self into the subconscious stream of thought of someone who may be needing a football coach. I've got to be careful about that English. You know what they did to Hunk Anderson on that."

"Yes," said the inquiring reporter, "Hunk Anderson, a B. A. graduate, talked in the patois of the coaching field for a news reel and a newspaper had a reporter take down all the grammatical mistakes and printed them in a column. Pretty lousy, if you ask me."

"Gosh," said the coach, "don't use that word. But listen. The real sure-fire, infallible tip-off, and pardon my slang, is this:

"When the college president issues a statement saying that the university is satisfied and positively is not considering any changes in the coaching personnel, then it's time to see if the luggage will stand another trip and to start packing it up. Because when the college president does that, the coach is on his way."

"Spread the word around. I have discovered the real dope and I want my fellow coaches to know it. You haven't got a copy of English grammar, have you? I want to study it on the train."

"Just a minute, porter. Well, I'll be seeing you. And if you read where the president at my school says no changes are contemplated in the coaching staff, let me know of any connections available, will you? So long."

RIGHT OUT OF THE FEED BAG.

There has been a lot of talk about the Notre Dame situation and there is, quite naturally, a lot more now that Elmer Layden has replaced Hunk Anderson.

Hence the following, from a Notre Dame man who knows Anderson and Layden well, is to be taken for what it is worth, which seems to be quite a lot.

"Anderson," he said, "never had a chance. He is a great coach, as good as any of them. But he will never go until he has someone of a certain type to complement him."

"Anderson was largely responsible for Rockne's great success. Hunk was the fellow who got out there and sweated with them, made them work, saw that they knew their stuff. Rockne supplied the brilliant strategy and, what was more important, he supplied the spark. The coach who gets out there, and, as I said, sweats with the boys, can rarely get close to boys in an inspirational way. They may like him, and usually do. But they can't be touched off like a skyrocket by anything he says."

"When Rock was gone the material began to drop off. I don't mean that Rockne recruited. He probably had to do less of that than anyone else. A lot of boys were sent to him. But the fact is that nearly every football player who felt he was good WANTED to go to Notre Dame and play under Rockne. When Rock was gone they began to go elsewhere. The magic went away with Rock."

"Now, the question is, what has Layden got that Anderson hasn't? He graduated cum laude, for one thing. He was a naturally spectacular type, while Anderson was the methodical, plodding type. He will be able, I think, to inspire the team, to provide a spark. Then, too, the material will improve. I don't mean Anderson didn't have material, but he didn't have what Rock did."

"Anderson never had a chance. He must have known that. It was generally accepted that the man who followed Rock would be in the toughest spot of football history. Layden can win three or four games and be a success in 1934. By then he will have organized his staff and material, and be on his way."

Which seems to be logical. All of it.

THE PROFESSION THANKS YOU, SIR.

H. B. Causey, writing from Monroe, Ga., pays such a splendid tribute to the sports pages of the nation that his letter is being reproduced. His letter, which is based on a line of comment here regarding the singleness of purpose which a bird dog shows, follows:

"Editor, Ralph McGill,
The Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Georgia.
Dear Sir:

"Among the many good lines of yours that I've read, I think the enclosed the gen of purest ray serene. There is a philosophy there, a philosophy that finds expression in the sport pages as it does nowhere else in the newspaper, for that 'singleness of purpose' that sport provides satisfies that other side of our lives. The skill, the courage and the stamina of the athlete is that which every man in reality wishes to be. Though not a happy warrior himself, the reader finds whole tribes of them in the sport pages. We know that we shall find there deeds that we cannot do. To provide that must be your singleness of purpose, for that is what we find."

"You sport writers cannot know just what you have meant to this country for four years past. Thousands of young men in a bewildering world that cut off their chances turned to the sport pages for the only balm there was to find. There we found American blood as red as ever, unpolluted with fear that the economic fight engendered. Editorials lost their savor, society pages provided laughter only when we felt like laughing, we saw the selective interest of the propagandist behind front-page streamers, but sport news was the inoculation against despondency."

"The dog has a scent to trail, and he does that only. We feel that the sport writers are doing one thing and are doing it well."

"Sincerely yours,
H. B. CAUSEY."

In the name of the profession, sir, we thank you. Salud! And I hope we may, in your eyes and others, continue to deserve your commendation.

PURPLES START WORK FOR GAME WITH HOUSTON

Saturday Double Header Closes City Football Schedule.

By Roy White.

Boys' High will face two football teams Saturday afternoon at Ponchatoula park, the return of the double-header which will close the city's prep and sandlot football season. The Purples play the Houston All-Stars and Atlanta's 125-pound sandlot championship will be played as a preliminary to the Boys' High-Houston game. The program is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for its 10th anniversary fund.

Boys' High's two opponents will be the Texas All-Stars for it was learned Monday that the visitors will present two separate and distinct teams, each to play one-half of the game.

PLENTY OF STRENGTH.

One of the teams will be coached by Wylie Summers, of San Jacinto, winner of the state championship this year. His championship team will be reinforced by Leroy Hughes, all-city center from Sam Houston, and Billy Baumhahn, halfback, and E. Y. Steckley, and from Milby High.

Lamar Camp, of John Reagan High, runner-up to San Jacinto, will handle the other squad which includes in addition to its own stars, stars from Jeff Davis High school.

Saturday's game will be no new experience to Boys' High, for the Purples played four teams last year in their 6-0 post-season triumph at Houston. Each of Houston's four high school teams played one quarter of the game and each employed a different type of play against Boys' High.

Houston's stars settled down to some hard work Monday afternoon, each team working on its own system of play and in separate quarters from the other.

As the situation sums up, Atlanta's football fans will have the opportunity of seeing five teams in action Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The schools will have their championship to settle and a championship and two runners-up compose the other game.

ONE ADMISSION.

Only one admission will be charged and there is a real football bargain in the offering. It will be a fitting climax to Atlanta's most successful season in 10 years.

And don't forget the little fellows, they will fight for the city's 120-pound sandlot championship at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. There will be no admission to see the youngest organized sandlot elevens play at Ponchatoula park.

LONG DEBATE.

State's athletic council, meeting here in special session, debated the coaching question for more than three and one-half hours before issuing a brief, formal statement announcing that Smith's contract would not be renewed.

Smith's resignation was effective immediately. He had no further statement to make.

The action came one day after the athletic council of the University of North Carolina had voted not to renew the contract of Charles "Chuck" Collins, a member of Notre Dame's 1924 squad, as head coach of the Tarheels.

DEAL IS CERTAIN.

Navin already has announced he was certain of getting Cochrane, and planned to clinch the deal after a short conference with the tall tactician of the Athletics. Cochrane was enthusiastic over the deal and was planning trades and sales in his mind and discussing Detroit's prospects for 1934.

Smith had his resignation voted down.

AS FAR AS THE LEAGUE MEETINGS WERE CONCERNED, THE LEADERS EXPECTED TO ADOPT A UNIFORM BASEBALL FOR BOTH CIRCUITS AND OFFER KENESAW MOUNTAIN LANDIS ANOTHER CONTRACT AS COMMISSIONER.

The radio problem appeared to be unsettled and the best information was that those clubs that desire to broadcast will do so, but that the league or clubs would ask for a cut in the profits accruing from the baseball broadcasts.

"Personally, I don't look for any change in the radio policy," said Will Harridge, president of the American League. "Some want it; some don't. The situation is about the same as a year ago."

Both President Harridge and President John Heydler of the National league, agreed that a uniform baseball would be advantageous, but the big question was which ball—the American or National league sphere?

Going back to trades and sales, there are the needs and rumors, take 'em or leave 'em.

The council's formal statement follows:

TWO POSTS OPEN.

"The athletic council voted not to renew the contract with John P. 'Clipper' Smith for the year 1934-35 and to offer the position of assistant coach to head coach to the approval of the head coach, both positions for which will be filled by the same person.

The statement also declared the post of assistant coach, held by Frank Reese, another Notre Dame product, was "open," but T. S. Johnson, acting chairman of the athletic council, said Reese could be considered as a possible candidate for head coach.

There will be another meeting of the council on December 20 to consider applications for the head coach position, but Johnson said no decision would be reached at that time.

The council's formal statement follows:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

DETROIT—Cochrane to manage the Tigers, plugging up the weak spot of the team.

PHILADELPHIA.

Connie Mack is going to sell or trade George Earmshaw, Lefty Grove, Rupe Walberg and Max Bishop to the highest bidder.

ST. LOUIS.

Manager Rogers Hornsby needs a power hitter, and likes Acer of Cleveland, but Cleveland wants him to swap Oscar Melillo for the southpaw pitcher.

CLEVELAND.

The Indians want a second baseman that can hit.

CHICAGO.

Rumors say the White Sox already have completed a cash deal for George Earmshaw.

NEW YORK.

Rumor has Tony Lazzeri out as bait for the best deal.

BOSTON.

Only three members of 1931 club left and club wide open for deal.

WASHINGTON.

Joe Cronin said he was pretty well satisfied but on the lookout for anything that looked good.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

NEW YORK—Manager Bill Terry says he'll be all set since the purchase of Jim Bowden, star right-handed pitcher from Portland.

PHILADELPHIA.

Connie Mack is going to swap Oscar Melillo for the southpaw pitcher.

ST. LOUIS.

All set but always ready for a deal.

CINCINNATI.

An apparently well founded report is going around that the Reds have given up hope of landing

Frankie Frisch.

BROOKLYN.

The Dodgers are hot

on the southpaw pitcher.

DETROIT.

Only one position is open.

PHILADELPHIA.

Phillies are looking for a good hitter.

DETROIT.

Brigadier is looking for a good pitcher.

DETROIT.

Only one position is open.

FANS PREPARE FOR BIG NIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

3 Heavyweight Matches Offered on Wednesday by Henry Weber.

One of the finest of the finest winning programs Matchmaker Henry Weber has ever arranged here is just a day distant. On Wednesday night at the auditorium three matches, featuring heavyweight performers, will entertain the fans.

Sun Jennings and Tom Marvin, Frank Speer and cowboy Jack Russell and Babe Caddock and Tony Catalino are the principals.

Matchmakers Marvin will appear in the feature match, scheduled for one hour and a half. The popular Jennings has not appeared here in some months and the fans will welcome his return.

UP TO SUN.

It will be up to Jennings to find some way around the devastating Cherokee chisel lock of Tom Marvin, the Osage. Marvin may find Sun in his eyes and hair, too.

Speer and Russell both are favorites here. But the ex-Tech football star is not favored to win. Cowboy Jack is a tough customer and is expected to prove a bit too formidable for Sun. They meet in the one-hour match.

A cousin of Earl Caddock, one-time wrestling champion, Babe Caddock makes his bow to Atlanta's wrestling fans.

Caddock has a reputation for being one of the great prospect. And Catalino is also rated very high.

This will be the 30-minute match and should prepare the crowd for one of the finest evenings of mat entertainment an Atlanta promoter has offered.

Tickets are on sale only at the Piedmont Hatters.

COLLEGE STARS PERFORM HERE

Atlanta basketball fans get their first view of the newly-organized Atlanta professional team at the auditorium Friday night when the strong Birmingham Reds invade the city for the first local game of the Southern Professional league season.

The Atlantans showed great promise in their first practice game against Griffiths, winning and regular workouts are being held to perfect the teamwork before the Birmingham engagement. All the boys on the squad are star individual players and the main task now is to co-ordinate their efforts.

Nolle Richardson, former Tech High and now a stand-out; Bill Perkins and Roy McArthur, who started together at Tech; Bobby Dodd, famous Tennessee quarterback; Joyner White, Georgia boy and Detroit out-fielder, and Pat Stephens, a crack shot on Atlanta's Athletic Club teams, are some of the boys who are working with Atlanta.

As far as this outfit, Birmingham will throw a fast and experienced squad, containing a number of former college stars as well as such colorful figures as Ben Chapman, famous Yankee out-fielder, and Battling Bozo, the prize-winning clowns.

The big game Friday night will be preceded at 8:15 o'clock by a battle between two of Atlanta's strongest girls' teams, the Druid Hills Methodist and the Gordon Street Presbyterians. A boys' game is also being arranged to open the program at 7:30, making a triple attraction for the fans.

Manager Harry Richman, of the Atlanta club, has been working hard to perfect seating arrangements, and announces that there will be 1,700 balcony seats available at 25 cents; 1,500 dress circle seats at 50 cents; 1,000 reserved section seats at 75 cents, or a dollar per couple; and 600 special sideline seats at 75 cents.

MAURER CAMPBELL.

He selected Adrian Maurer as the best ball carrier and Nutty Campbell as the finest all-round back. Campbell, a quarterback, kicked, passed, ran, and blocked, and he was a dead-kicker.

Robertson leaves the south with regret and hopes some day to return. He left tomorrow morning with the best wishes of friends and coaching contemporaries.

L. S. U. The team is well coached and its blocking was practically perfect.

The Tigers gained enough ground to have scored more points and narrowly missed blocking three Tennessee punts. The Vols hung on desperately, but crippled as they were were lucky to score a night. The L. S. U. formation is a comparatively simple one but its power is devastating.

New Orleans and Baton Rouge are very pleasant spots to visit now, with everything open and the jollity of real prevailing.

WIDE-OPEN TOWN.

The bars are functioning full blast, but the drinking is orderly, with the ladies being very much in evidence.

New Orleans, always a city of freedom and broadmindedness where individual rights are concerned, takes it all very calmly.

Things are along, happy and eventful and the city is feeling of better times all around.

After seeing it all, one is led to inquire how Mr. Volstead is led to think away with it in the first place.

The restaurants, particularly, have profited from repeat and many jobless waiters have been put back on the employment list. Good eating, always a civic pride, is back in its heyday and the chefs are vieing again to see which can devise the most appealing culinary display.

The coaches' meeting was a pleasant social gathering. Mack Thrasher, and J. D. Thompson, the Columbia (Ga.) referee and ex-Georgia star fullback, were the only Nimrods who had any luck on the duck hunts, bagging several apiece.

Three Bulldogs Play for Charity

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 11.—Three senior members of the 1933 Georgia football team have accepted invitations to participate in a charity football game to be played at Knoxville, Tenn., New Year's Day, between two picked teams representing Southeastern conference colleges.

Captain Graham Batchelor, W. A. S. Lewis, and W. W. (Bull) Cooper, tackle, all of whom ended their football careers against Southern California, are the three who will represent Georgia. Homer Ker, the great midget fullback, was also asked to play in the game but was unable to accept the invitation. The three will leave for Knoxville December 27.

Make his gift a box of Flor de Melba, the utmost in cigar value.

He will enjoy them from the first to the last puff. Flor de Melba is the Cigar Supreme for 5¢.

Robby Leaves South Tomorrow With Regret

Ex-Petrel Coach Praises Coach Alex; Sees Dixie Football Greatly Improved.

By Jack Troy.

Soft music came from a radio on the wall. Lights were turned low. It was a reverie in a hotel room. Something about it suggested it was not that at all, but a reverie in a deserted stadium.

Coach Harry Robertson reflected on his nine years at Oglethorpe and made pointed observations of close to a score of years he has spent in the south as a coach. It was Harry Robertson's farewell to arms in Atlanta, as he leaves early tomorrow morning with Mrs. Robertson for New York, to visit with Chick Meehan and Sleepy Jim Crowley, close friends, and the two to Boston.

Robertson is the best coach in modern football, resigned at Oglethorpe after the final game of the season with Mercer. During his nine years as head coach he lifted Oglethorpe football out of the slough of despise when material was good and technique material was bad, turning mediocres into leaders by tutelage.

His coaching genius was wasted just as completely as it was handed over to a bench.

Robertson would like to continue in the south as a coach but is not bidding for any of the positions now open. There are plenty vacant at Kentucky, North Carolina, and North Carolina. Should Chet Wynne accept the Kentucky position, Auburn would not have a head coach.

PLANS INDEFINITE.

It seems that Robertson may coach the line at Syracuse, his Alma Mater, or assist Chick Meehan at Manhattan. He has not definitely formed his plans, but may give up coaching altogether and go into business with his brother, Jim Robertson, who he succeeded at Oglethorpe.

Football would lose a grand character and a great coach should Robertson decide on the latter course.

In Robertson's opinion Coach W. A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech, is one of the finest coaches and best coaches in football. "I predict that Tech with Alex at the helm will enjoy as high a ranking as it did in 1928 within two or three years," Robertson said.

The talk drifted on. Robertson said the Tennessee coaching combination as the finest combination in the south today. "It would be hard to improve on such a combination as Major Neveland, Parker and Brittain," he declared.

"Football in the south has improved greatly since I first came down. Prep and high school players are better coached and reach the colleges with a better knowledge of the fundamentals.

OFFICIALS BETTER.

"Southern officials are far ahead of eastern officials. They make a better study of the game and work harder in combination, too."

"The spirit of congeniality of the southern coaches has it all over the north. Northern coaches do not get together.

"I have great admiration for Scrappies Harry Mehe, Frank Thomas, Scrappy Moore, Chet Wynne, Clark and the like. Bill Alexander, Sam Morrison and Tom Cerniglia compose the roster."

"I coached three of Frank Anderson's sons—Marion, Frank and Eddie—and I have never known three finer or harder working boys."

"My relations at Oglethorpe with Dr. Jacobs were always friendly and I wish Oglethorpe all the success in the world."

"The happiest days I ever spent at Oglethorpe were with Nutty Campbell as backfield coach and Homer Chestnut as freshman coach."

"Sports writers have been doing exceptionally fine work. Even with the poor showing Oglethorpe teams made in the last year, they have been very gracious. I am sending some of my best friends among the sports writers Good reporting is of immeasurable aid to the colleges."

Robertson nominated Paul Goldsmith as the finest player he ever coached at Oglethorpe. "For versatility, courage and ability, Paul has no equal," Robertson asserted.

MAURER CAMPBELL.

He selected Adrian Maurer as the best ball carrier and Nutty Campbell as the finest all-round back. Campbell, a quarterback, kicked, passed, ran, and blocked, and he was a dead-kicker.

Robertson leaves the south with regret and hopes some day to return. He left tomorrow morning with the best wishes of friends and coaching contemporaries.

The Tigers gained enough ground to have scored more points and narrowly missed blocking three Tennessee punts. The Vols hung on desperately, but crippled as they were were lucky to score a night. The L. S. U. formation is a comparatively simple one but its power is devastating.

New Orleans and Baton Rouge are very pleasant spots to visit now, with everything open and the jollity of real prevailing.

WIDE-OPEN TOWN.

The bars are functioning full blast, but the drinking is orderly, with the ladies being very much in evidence.

New Orleans, always a city of freedom and broadmindedness where individual rights are concerned, takes it all very calmly.

Things are along, happy and eventful and the city is feeling of better times all around.

After seeing it all, one is led to inquire how Mr. Volstead is led to think away with it in the first place.

The restaurants, particularly, have profited from repeat and many jobless waiters have been put back on the employment list. Good eating, always a civic pride, is back in its heyday and the chefs are vieing again to see which can devise the most appealing culinary display.

The coaches' meeting was a pleasant social gathering. Mack Thrasher, and J. D. Thompson, the Columbia (Ga.) referee and ex-Georgia star fullback, were the only Nimrods who had any luck on the duck hunts, bagging several apiece.

Coch Alexander, of Tech, received many nice compliments on his Tech football team.

Three Bulldogs Play for Charity

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 11.—Three senior members of the 1933 Georgia football team have accepted invitations to participate in a charity football game to be played at Knoxville, Tenn., New Year's Day, between two picked teams representing Southeastern conference colleges.

Captain Graham Batchelor, W. A. S. Lewis, and W. W. (Bull) Cooper, tackle, all of whom ended their football careers against Southern California, are the three who will represent Georgia. Homer Ker, the great midget fullback, was also asked to play in the game but was unable to accept the invitation. The three will leave for Knoxville December 27.

CARL TIDWELL SETS NEW MARK AT DUCKPINS

Bowls 416 for 3rd Games and Beats Srochi's Record.

Carl Tidwell, of the Friendly & Fortune Shoes team, set a new season record for all-league bowlers this season as he amassed the tremendous score of 416 for three games, surpassing the former season record of 408 set by Srochi in 1932.

PARAGUAY TAKES 13,000 BOLIVIANS

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Celebrants marched through flag-decorated streets tonight as the defense ministry announced official capture of more than 13,000 Bolivian soldiers in victories in the Chaco.

The ministry issued three successive communiques declaring Paraguayan forces had captured:

1. The Bolivian cavalry regiment, Lanuza, with its commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel Alvaro, six lieutenants and six subalterns.

2. The Bolivian 20th regiment, The Los, and the Bolivian 21st regiment, The Abra, a total of 1,500 men and their complete personnel of officers in an engagement in which 600 Bolivians were killed.

3. The Bolivian fourth and ninth army divisions with 10,500 men and more than 700 officers, as well as a large number of men.

The municipality invited all business houses to close for a fiesta of celebration and to permit all civilians to assist in the victory celebration.

The capture of the fourth and ninth divisions originally was reported unofficial, but later the defense ministry confirmed the report officially.

The war between Paraguay and Bolivia is an outgrowth of more than 50 years of hostilities over the Chaco Boreal, a great jungle wilderness comprising many thousand square miles of only partially explored territory in

6 ATLANTA ARTISTS DISPLAYING WORK IN N.Y. EXHIBITION

Six Atlanta artists are represented among the 119 painters and sculptors from whose works were chosen selections of native art that were placed on exhibition Monday at the Museum of Modern Art in New York city.

The showing is the outgrowth of a movement to determine if the work of the country isn't just as important in artistic production as is New York. Atlanta was one of 16 cities asked to furnish exhibits.

Marjorie Conant Bush-Brown (Mrs. Harold Bush-Brown), is represented with a figure study of two negro women. She is the only woman among the exhibitors from Atlanta. Other Atlantans showing their work are Benjamin E. Shute, Robert S. Rogers, Douglas Wright, and George Ramey, with paintings, and Julian H. Harris, sculptor, who is showing "Head of a Negro."

Two features of the exhibit as a whole are that the painters show a strong interest in the native scene as their subject matter, and that almost one-fourth of the painters and sculptors are women.

The center of South America and which both nations claim.

The League of Nations, the Pan American Conference now in session in Montevideo, the United States, and various South and Central American groups vainly have sought for some time past to assist the combatants in an amicable solution of their differences.

At the present time the special commission from the League of Nations is in Bolivia after a visit to Paraguay.

ROOSEVELT BEGINS '35 BUDGET STUDY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The problem of gauging expenditures for the next fiscal year—what outlays are to be continued, what new moves undertaken—came to the front today as President Roosevelt and his administration began the study of the government's 1935 budget.

Lewis Douglas, director of the budget bureau, who favors a "pay-as-you-go" policy, took to the White House tentative figures calling for disbursements of $2,600,000,000 between July 1, 1934, and June 30, 1935, with the receipts loosely estimated at $3,550,000,000 leaving a margin of nearly a billion for unexpected needs and reduction of the nation's debt.

Morgenthau Consulted.

The two were joined by Henry Morgenthau Jr., acting secretary of the treasury, who now has the problem of federal finances but has made a close study of budgetary needs since assuming command of the department three weeks ago.

A short while before, Morgenthau had announced another continuation of the domestic price level and price of $3,010. It has been unchanged since December 1, with new and unrevealed safeguards in effect to prevent the figure from becoming known in financial centers before its official publication here. Meanwhile, officials silently continued their investigation of a report that the gold price had gotten out of line of time.

While the week-end brought assurances from several senators, including Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, an exponent of inflation, that no move for mandatory inflation was planned for the coming session of congress, Senator Pittman, of West Virginia, a champion of silver, today asserted demonetization of the white metal would be ordered by congress unless the president acted in the meanwhile.

Predicting the silver advocates would introduce measures ranging from free and unlimited coinage to governments purchasing silver, the senator said he was willing to compromise. He suggested a bill providing for the coining of silver dollars from all silver mined after the passage of the bill, which he said, would add approximately $30,000,000 to the currency. And provide a "mild inflation."

Normal Budget.

Douglas' distinction has been to show that inflation cannot huge emergency expenditures and work toward a more normal budget.

The president has shown a desire to put government money to work wherever there is promise that such action will help the unemployed. How deeply this apparent rift runs was disclosed in an opening conference on the 1935 budget.

Of great importance and vagueness is the amount that the Reconstruction Corporation will need. Its life officially expires in January, but Mr. Roosevelt has said that congress would be asked to extend it and there have been indications that its power might be somewhat broadened. So far this fiscal year, now nearly half gone, the treasury has advanced the corporation $149,020,000.

A second big item is the public works administration. Congress originally authorized it to spend $3,300,000,000 and its officials predict that that will nearly all have been disbursed by the end of the fiscal year. They expected to ask for probably two billion more.

$2,800,000,000 Offered

The treasury today announced that subscriptions to the $950,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness offered last week totaled $2,800,000,000. The new securities were offered in exchange for $227,000,000 of maturing issues. The exchange offer was taken advantage of to the extent of $807,500,500, the remainder being paid from the cash receipts of the issue. All subscriptions of $5,000 were allotted in full. Cash subscriptions of more than that amount received a 17 percent allotment.

The domestic gold price today was $12.5 higher than the dollar value of gold at London on the basis of a $5.16 1-2 exchange rate prevailing when the Washington quotation was determined. The margin was slightly reduced subsequently as the dollar displayed signs of weakness.

Charles Jones, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, announced that purchases of domestic gold have totaled 420,000 ounces at a cost of $14,000,000. As usual he declined to say how much gold had been purchased abroad. (ad.)

SCHOOL MEETING HONORS CREATOR OF UNCLE REMUS

A stirring address by Professor R. L. Ramsey, principal of the Fulton High School, and the presence of Lucien Harris, son of Joel Chandler Harris, whose birthday anniversary was celebrated, were the features of a joint meeting of the South Side Civic Federation and the Joe Brown Junior High school in the school auditorium Monday night.

Charles S. Statham, president of the school student body, conducted the program, which also was featured by song selections by the school choral club and symphonic recitations of some of Joel Chandler Harris' stories by the speech choir of the students.

Miss Anna Taylor, a senior student of the school, delivered a sonnet address the theme of which was the spirit of the Joe Brown school and the community.

Delegations from several wards of the city attended. The meeting was presided over by W. T. Harison, president of the civic federation.

already taken to aid the cotton, wheat and corn and hogs farmers by the administration, and said that these activities, combined with the NRA, had brought improvements to both city and farm.

"But in all candor," he continued, "I think a brief moment of gratification is enough; we seemed to be on the right road, but we are now in the woods, and the most important is that we guard against letting a rise in farm income tempt us to forget the realities of supply and demand."

Up From Ruin.

Said O'Neal: "We are for united support of the AAA, the NRA and the president's monetary views."

"Look back to the place we started from last February, when the whole nation was tottering on the brink of ruin, and despair and misery seized the people everywhere."

"Since then, hope and confidence have been born, and there is renewed courage to forge ahead. The wave of foreclosures of homes and farms has been checked, although not altogether stopped."

"Farm prices have increased from an index of 49 to 71; farm buying power has increased about 24 per cent. These prices are not satisfactory, but they are a lot better than we would have had if we had not gone ahead with the program. We have made a good start. Let us go ahead and finish the job."

After praising the agricultural and monetary policies of President Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, O'Neal said:

"The AAA is the Magna Charta of American agriculture, its charter of freedom from the domination of predatory business interests, its guarantee of economic equality with other groups, its promise of a new day for American agriculture."

"The demands made by the federation at its 1932 convention, including economic equality for the farmer, restored farm buying power, production control, mortgage relief, and restoration of 'the honest dollar.' O'Neal said:

"It is truly remarkable the extent to which we have obtained action on our program."

Scheduled to address the convention were Senator Pittman, of Tennessee; Wallace and George N. Peck. Leaders of the federation thus hoped to learn first-hand details of the controversy between Wallace and Peck over conduct of the AAA.

Miss Jackson Weds Homer R. Hannah At Church Ceremony

Kirkwood Baptist church formed the setting for a scene of impressive beauty on Sunday afternoon when Miss Elizabeth Jackson became the bride of Homer R. Hannah, in the presence of friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Shirley. The church was decorated with palms and ferns and tall baskets held white chrysanthemums, carnations and roses. Burning tapers in seven-branched cathedral candelabra shed a glow over the scene.

Preceding the wedding ceremony, a program of musical music was rendered, Mrs. Claude T. Tolbert playing piano, and Miss Janie Hunter the violin. "Hush, Little Baby," "All for You," and "Frumerie" was played as a violin solo during the ceremony. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." Miss Martha Dailey, maid of honor, was gowned in a fashioned model of Burghundy velvet, cinched with gold chain worn with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley.

The lovely bride entered with F. G. Cook, her foster father, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, B. M. Cross. The bride wore a becoming gown of white chiffon velvet fashioned along princess lines. Her hair was a close-fitting model of the same material, and her only ornament was a platinum and pearl pendant, a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of holly, rose and lilies of the valley, tied with white satin and lace.

Mrs. Thomas Jackson, mother of the bride, was costumed in a becoming model of pearl gray crepe. She wore a corsage of pink roses with lilies of the valley. Mrs. F. O. Hannah, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in black chiffon velvet. Her corsage was of yellow roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hannah left for a motor trip through Florida. The bride's traveling costume was an attractive triple-sleeved wool suit of hunter's green, worn with black accessories.

Among the guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Myers, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee and Mrs. Clyde Lee, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Moesley and Lewis Moesley, of Anderson, S. C., and Mrs. Ida Long, of Westminster, S. C.

Miss Calhoun Is Honor Guest

Miss Marion Calhoun, a popular bride-elect whose marriage to Bickerly Winston Cardwell will be a brilliant social event of December 16, was central figure Monday at the tea at which Mrs. Hughes Spalding entertained at her home on Peachtree road. Mrs. Stewart Witham presided at the tea table. The guests numbered 30 and included all the members of the bridal party and the families.

Mrs. Andrew Calhoun was hostess at luncheon Monday at the Piedmont Driving Club. Covers were placed for Miss Calhoun and Misses Mary Adair Howell, Mary Ann Carr, Louise Calhoun, Josephine Crawford, Ethel Royster, Jessie Lee Cardwell, Patti Carter, and Madeline and Wallace Malon, Curtis, James Camille, William Nixon, George Adair, Peter Pund, Marshall Wellborn, Phinny Calhoun and Andrew Calhoun.

Mrs. Frank Flaming and her sister, Miss Nancy Higham, were honored at a tea on Sunday as a complimentary gesture to Miss Calhoun. The exquisitely appointed table in the dining room was adorned with a silver epergne filled with calla lilies and pernet roses. Silver candle sticks held white tapers, and the guests included members of the Calhoun-Cardwell bridal party.

Miss Carol Allen Weds Sam P. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Leonard Allen announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carol Allen, to Sam P. Jones, the ceremony having been quietly solemnized Saturday afternoon at the Peachtree Christian church. Dr. Robert W. Burns, pastor of the church, read the marriage service in the presence of the members of the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom.

The bride's father, G. Leonard Allen, gave her in marriage. The bride chose for the ceremony a becoming model of sapphire blue velvet worn with hat and accessories to match. Her flowers were a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Jones and his bride left for a wedding journey to Florida. The bride traveled in an ensemble of blue tweed worn with black accessories.

Drama Study Group.

The Drama Study Group of the American Association of University Women meets on Wednesday, December 13, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. A. S. Stine, 100 Peachtree street. The topic for discussion will be the plays of George Bernard Shaw. Mrs. Charles E. Stine extends an invitation to college women who are interested.

Camp Fire Girls Will Dress Dolls This Week

Annual Christmas projects of Camp Fire Girls are being carried out in group work in the city, with special emphasis being placed during the coming week on the dressing of dolls for distribution to less fortunate children, through the Salvation Army store. Each year Camp Fire Girls dress hundreds of dolls of every size and shape and in every manner of costume to gladden the hearts of little girls and to bring joy to those who give this service. Members of the Torchbearers' Club will cooperate in this project and any older Camp Fire Girls who are not now affiliated with groups but desire to dress dolls may get them at Camp Fire Girl stores.

Last year several strangers came into the Camp Fire Office on the morning of the doll reception bearing bundles all beautifully wrapped and said they contained dolls that they had dressed "just for fun," because they had no little girl to dress a doll for and they would go through a Christmas without having this pleasure. If others desire to have this pleasure and to cooperate in this worth-while movement the Camp Fire Girls will be happy to see that the dolls are well placed.

The lighting of living Christmas trees and the singing of carols on Christmas Eve are projects that make the Christmas season a happier one, and it is with this in view that the Camp Fire Girls continue these projects each year. Anyone lighting living tree this year, not approached by a Camp Fire Girl, is requested to call Walnut 3738 and report the name and number of trees lighted.

General Butler Is Honored.

The Georgia Epsilon chapter of the Delta Theta Chi sorority will entertain with a scavenger hunt this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium, sponsored by the club. Miss Alline Fentress, accomplished violinist, will appear with Miss Mower, who has studios in Nashville, Tenn., and whose work shows rare talent. Miss Mower, a former Atlanta, went to New York six years ago, and after two weeks won a place in the Greenwich Follies, where she was starred for two years. Then she became associated with Ruth St. Denis.

Delta Theta Chi Parties Will Honor Hold Scavenger Hunt New York Visitor

The Georgia Epsilon chapter of the Delta Theta Chi sorority will entertain with a scavenger hunt this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's Club auditorium, sponsored by the club. Miss Alline Fentress, accomplished violinist, will appear with Miss Mower, who has studios in Nashville, Tenn., and whose work shows rare talent. Miss Mower, a former Atlanta, went to New York six years ago, and after two weeks won a place in the Greenwich Follies, where she was starred for two years. Then she became associated with Ruth St. Denis.

Mrs. Benjamin Lauterstein, of New York city, who is numbered among the interesting visitors of the early holiday days, will bring the inspiration for a round of social affairs as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kline at Bell Monde, their home on Peachtree Battle avenue.

Inaugurating the series of parties will be the bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. Charles Kessinger will preside Tuesday, December 19, at Brookhaven Country Club in compliment to Mrs. Lauterstein. Mrs. Kline will honor her visitor at a bridge-luncheon at 11 o'clock at her home on Thursday, December 14, when guests will include a group of the hostess' friends. A number of other parties are being planned, honoring Mrs. Lauterstein, the dates to be announced later.

Pan-American League Meets January 11.

Pan-American League meets on Tuesday, December 11, in the form of literary appreciation. Gordon Brown who, though native to this soil, speaks impeccably Spanish, gave a resume of the life and works of two popular Andalusians, the poet Adolf Bequer and Juan Ramon Jimenez, who gave a lecture from south American poets, which deserved applause for his earnestness, as well as for splendid rendition. Dr. Cecil Stockard mystified the audience with new card tricks.

Present were Sra. Ramon Arias and Sra. Julieta Arias, of Panama City; Mrs. Florence Salmon, Mrs. Ethel Salmon, Douglas Salmon, Mrs. H. M. Smith, Alice Wheeler, Bossie B. Smith, Emily Longino, Maria Luisa Benteen, of Atlanta and Cienfuegos; Misses Rose and Dorothy Moran, and David Harwell, M. H. Davis, Ramon Portu, of Cuba; Jessie Nix, C. T. Bradley, Jr., Antonio Mendez, Jose Real, James Owen, A. G. Marshall, C. J. Johnson, W. A. Dunlap, Gordon Brown, Ramon Jose, Reg. George Mansour, O. A. Bandy and Dr. Cecil Stockard.

Drama Study Group.

The Drama Study Group of the American Association of University Women meets on Wednesday, December 13, at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. A. S. Stine, 100 Peachtree street. The topic for discussion will be the plays of George Bernard Shaw. Mrs. Charles E. Stine extends an invitation to college women who are interested.

By VICTOR EUBANK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Both Prime investment and the more speculative secondary loans reflected improved trading sentiment in the bond market today and prices in most categories were pushed forward vigorously.

Total sales expanded to $14,996,000, par value from $12,669,000 last Friday, and the average for 60 domestic corporate issues advanced half a point.

The United States government list, which had been declining for several days, rallied 1-32nd to 22-32nds of a point, with activity being centred principally in the lower-yield treasuries.

While the domestic gold rate was again unchanged, and currency stabilization rumors caused the dollar to advance in foreign exchange dealings, traders and investors apparently were much encouraged by optimistic business reports. The American Iron & Steel Institute estimated steel operations this week would be around 31.5 per cent of capacity, which compares with 28.3 per cent a week ago, and is the highest figure since the week of October 22.

Loans again made the best showing among the corporation groups. Gainers of fractions to 3 or more points here included some issues of Baltimore & Ohio, Central of Kansas City, Illinois, Central, Kansas City, Southern, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Pennsylvania.

Among the better utilities and industrials, up around a point, were some bonds of American & International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, Texas Corporation, Trumbull Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Foreign obligations were quiet and mixed.
